RESEARCHERS IN MOTION

Research and Innovation

EURAXESS is a key European Research Area (ERA) initiative that provides information and support services for researchers and research organisations. It aims to break down barriers to mobility, promote research as an attractive career and enhance scientific collaboration between Europe and the world.

Through its four actions EURAXESS supports the creation of an open labour market for researchers, which is one of ERA's five key priorities.

The EURAXESS Jobs portal helps to match demand and supply by publishing thousands of vacancies for research jobs in 40 European countries and in various international destinations. Researchers and employers can also access the EURAXESS Service Centres, which provide free and personalised assistance on a range of mobility-related issues. EURAXESS Rights contributes to better employment and working conditions for researchers by supporting the implementation of a Human Resources Strategy among institutions. EURAXESS Links is a networking service offering European and non-European researchers opportunities for international collaboration and career mobility.
